Reading of and Approval Minutes of Previous Meeting

- The past meeting's minutes were distributed prior to the meeting. The minutes were read and accepted by all.

Chaplain's Message

- Today is feast of St. Peter Claburn. He was a Jesuit that served in Columbia and throughout South America. He attended to the slaves brought to South America from Africa. He spent his life meeting the slave ships, taking them food, tending to the sick, and teaching them the Gospel. He also ministered to plantations themselves, fighting for better conditions for the slaves. There's a part of us that want to say that slavery is gone (some aspects of slavery are gone), but human trafficking is still very much with us. In 2018/2019, there was a 30% increase in human trafficking, largely in the sex and labor trafficking industry. It has a new name and face, and isn't as open as it once was, but slavery in its own way is still very much around. As Knights, we're called to care for those around us and make sure that no one is left behind, ensuring that we care for those on the margins. I encourage you to study and research the signs of human trafficking so that you're knowledgeable.
